The Meridian district merged into the Quigley district with connections through the Gateway Greenway and along Meridian Street. The Quigley district encompasses the heart of downtown Huntsville, including the Courthouse Square, Big Spring Park, Von Braun Center, Huntsville Museum of Art, the Lumberyard area and surrounding restaurants and bars. Its namesake, E.P. Quigley, was a surveyor who created a street map of Huntsville 115 years ago.

Hours: Monday through Sunday, 12 p.m. to 11 p.m.

CITY OF HUNTSVILLE ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT DISTRICTS

Huntsville offers designated Arts & Entertainment Districts to help animate urban areas of Huntsville by attracting cultural events, entertainment and dining. To complement the outdoor activities within these districts, patrons are allowed to purchase an alcoholic beverage from a Permittee and carry it outdoors to consume.
